URGENT: Amicus Brief in Support of Motion to Dismiss - Need your help!

I just heard back from investor relations:

Thank you for reaching out and for your offer to help. We have identified a good lawyer, Matt Peller at Rolnick Kramer, who is willing to assist you for no or a small fee. Time is of the essence and a filing would have to be made by December 13, 2021. Please contact Matt Peller as soon as possible. Matt's bio and contact details are in the following link:<https://www.rksllp.com/profile/matthew-peller>.

Kind regards, Pershing Square IR

Instructions:

Email Matt at mpeller@rksllp.com

The subject line must read "PSTH Amicus Brief"

Include your full name, whether you are an individual or institutional shareholder, and whether you are interested to potentially support the motion to dismiss.

If there's a fee involved, we can decide how to split it. If you can't afford to pay a fee, please send an email anyway. Some of us may be able to pitch in extra to help cover your fee. Please do this ASAP so we can beat the deadline!

What is this? We the shareholders of PSTH can attempt to file an Amicus Brief to support PSTH's motion to dismiss the George Assad lawsuit. An opposite perspective on the case from many members of the plaintiff's own class (other shareholders of PSTH) might count as informative to the case.

Once the Amicus Brief is drafted, you'll receive a copy to review. Then you can choose to support it. If you do, Matt will add your name to the filing.

Edit: NO FEE FOR THE AMICUS BRIEF!

You, as a PSTH shareholder, added your name to this effort. Once the Amicus Brief is drafted, you'll receive a copy to review. Then you can choose to support it. If you do, Matt will add your name to the filing.

Dear Amicus,
I will keep this brief. You should dismiss the lawsuit because it's not good. Also, we have the technology, or at least we used to. We definitely have a sandwich monster with like a hundred arms though.
Thank you for your consideration and if you can order that SPARC is a thing, that'd be cool too. K thnx.

If the suit ends up being dismissed with prejudice we should all sign a card for Matt like the short bus schoolchildren we really are along with chocolate pudding cups.

Super interested to help. Unsure what I can do about the fee. Want to help but don't want to be surprised by some 10k bill if I send an email.

Any guidance what the fee might mean. Not looking for a free ride just not sure what I'm signing up for.

↑ 10 ↓ Reply Share Report Save Follow

moazzam0 OP · 19 days ago

Understandable. I'll post an update as soon as possible on this. There's no cost to send the email, though. It just serves to express interest in the effort. You're not committed to anything. After you review the draft of the brief and know the cost (if any) you can decide whether to commit.

You can participate, too. The only requirement is that you're a shareholder of PSTH. You don't need to submit your address.

This is what I hope happens. We will get a DA tomorrow and George Assad is going to feel like an idiot because he never understood the UMG deal in the first place.

Case dropped when the DA comes out!

Bill got himself in, now he has to get himself out without my help before he earns my trust.

there should be no need for lawyers fees or extra effort from the shareholders side.

No, Matt said he'll know more over the next few days. It's just one filing, so hopefully not more than we can all handle. It could potentially be free too. 🙏

All SPAC sponsors (Chamath Palihapitiya, et al.,) should be the ones filing Amicus Curiae briefs.

They have a vested interest in having a favorable outcome

r/PSTH Search Reddit

moazzam0 OP · 17 days ago

That would be great and I'm not sure what's stopping them. I certainly can't make them do so. I pursue the best course of action within my capacity.
